Stairwell Pantry

If the stairs leading to your cellar are wide enough, the wall beside (above left) them can be transformed into a pantry for items you use regularly, such as canned goods and other kitchen supplies. Have your local home store or lumberyard cut one-by-fours in decreasing lengths (use the longest shelves at the top of the stairs, the shorter ones near the bottom). Give them a coat of semigloss paint to make them easy to wipe clean. Then hang them (these are spaced about a foot apart) with metal L brackets.
